Dining

Raffles Lounge & Terrace takes centre stage at the lobby and will offer a very tailored take on the traditional afternoon tea as well as all day comforts. A champagne and oyster bar set beneath a spectacular chandelier will feature the very Macau-appropriate Million Dollar Cocktail—a heritage creation by Raffles bartender Ngiam Tong Boon in 1910 before he invented the famed Singapore Sling five years later. Belvedere on the 6th floor, offers a sunlit alternative venue for international delicacies in a unique glass pool house, exclusive to inhouse guests.

Looking ahead to the most anticipated highlights of the opening later this year, guests can anticipate some exciting world-class collaborations reflecting the best in culinary and design of the region. Chef and Sushi Master Masaaki Miyakawa, one of the only 5 Three-Star Michelin Sushi Chefs in Japan, will helm a new signature Sushi concept for Raffles at Galaxy Macau. As no Raffles would be complete without its own local adaptation of the brand's historic Long Bar, Macau's is set to be a very unexpected and modern take on the 108-year-old heritage gin bar, and is being designed by the luminary Joyce Wang, with a cocktail curation, including an official Macau Sling, to be created by a collaboration with noted 50 Best Bars legend, Antonio Lai.

RAFFLES LOUNGE & TERRACE

Step back in time to experience the legendary, signature hospitality at the Raffles Lounge & Terrace, where stunning marble pillars frame the lobby and lounge to create a sense of grandeur. Guests are also invited to enjoy a European heritage afternoon tea, while enjoying views of vibrant Galaxy Macau integrated resort beyond. By night, listen to the soothing sounds of the world's finest handcrafted piano – the Steinway Baby Grand – or step out onto the terrace for drinks under a canopy of stars.

Raffles Lounge & Terrace brings together a team of talented chefs who have garnered some of the world's most prestigious culinary awards, including Chef de Cuisine Yorick Soh - Virtuoso of French Cuisine with Michelin Pedigree, Lok Hin Yam - Michelin-starred Pastry Master, Jacky Lung - Rising Star in International Championships.
